Dear member of the public

On 18 December 2018 you submitted the following Freedom of Information request:

If a constable fails to act when crimes have been reported to him/her would they be in breach of their oath??

On what grounds is the local and county council not investigated in relation to fraud and corruption despite reports from the public, local councillors, and the National Audit Office.

Has the police commissioner taken an oath and could you provide details.

The responses from the Office of the Police and Crime Commissioner are as follows:

This is not a valid question under the requirements of Section 8 as you are asking for an opinion and not recorded information.
